

Talk Synopsis:

Is communicating with your teen becoming more and more of a challenge these days? Take heart – you are not alone! Often, such tensions arise due to the difference in personalities and perspective between parent and teen. In this talk, you will be given opportunities to reflect and analyze your communication preferences. You will also identify self-defeating strategies in communication and will be equipped with new paradigms for understanding and relating to your teen.

Speaker Profile:

Susan Comiskey

Susan was born in Sydney Australia and completed all her undergraduate work in that city. She has lived and worked in several different nations and enjoys the challenge of cross-cultural interaction. She has a master's degree in pastoral leadership which was completed while on assignment in Singapore. Currently Susan is working on her doctoral studies. Susan has a wealth of public speaking experience. She has delivered lectures for Singapore Ministry of Defence, Education and Health; worked on the Family Life Ambassador program throughout Singapore and various other citywide projects. Susan is a well-received speaker, who is warm and engaging.